

The quarterly newsletter of Enable Software

enabled

Continued Expansion and Development for Enable...

2003 saw a continuation of expansion for Enable Software. New recruits include Richard Evans, an IT sales professional, Joanna Wimble, a design and marketing specialist and also Ben Roberts who has been appointed the position of Programme Manager.

We now have over 150 clients globally and have completed over 250 implementations.

We will continue to keep you updated about the development and progress of Enable Software, but in the mean time if you have any queries or projects that we may be able to help you with, please get in touch with us.

Enable Software and Infomatrix join forces to form 'Enable Infomatrix'

Infomatrix specialises in improving business performance through web based performance measurement and risk management solutions. For years Infomatrix has been a large client of Enable. In February Enable and Infomatrix merged and started a new Company together - Enable Infomatrix.

Enable Infomatrix combines the people and skills of both companies, and provides Health & Safety, Property Tracking, KPI, and Performance Measurement solutions. Clients already include Sainsburys, Highways Agency, and the Health & Safety Executive.

Enable Infomatrix helps Sainsbury's to improve their business performance

T: 01789 208080 W: www.myenable.com
F: 01789 208058 E: info@myenable.com

enable
SOFTWARE

Enable works on over 30 projects with Delphi

Multi-national Delphi Corporation (NYSE:DPH) is a world leader in mobile electronics, transportation components and systems technology. Enable were 1 of 6 companies quoting for the first project and were chosen due to the need for speed and quality of thier proposal along with the affordable solution that was offered.

Enable has given Delphi the ability to publish and sell Delphi branded websites to 1200 garages by the use of Content Fusion. Enable has also developed an Intranet and much more.

Andrew Butt wins Young Entrepreneur of the Year

Andrew Butt, Managing Director of Enable Software, started his first business aged just 14 – helping companies set up their websites. This allowed him to take up his hobby at a young age which was learning to fly helicopters.

At 17 Andrew became the youngest qualified helicopter pilot in the world. It was whilst learning to fly that he met fellow entrepreneur Denys Shortt who was generally frustrated by software providers. The two were convinced they could provide a better service so together they started Enable Software

Andrew commented:

"I am delighted to have won. I really love running Enable. We have developed some great software and I have a great team around me. This award is all credit to them."

Following a very successful launch of Collins Activerrevision, Enable was appointed to develop a website for Collins Maths Frameworking. The Maths Frameworking website runs in tandem with the book series of the same name, and offers both students and teachers the support they need to succeed at Key Stage 3.

Enable has also been appointed as the developer for Collins Primary Maths, Haralambos Holborn, and a website subscription management system, all of which are current active projects.

Latin News is a leading source of economic and political information on Latin America. With over 30,000 subscribers, the company wanted to create a new content managed website that would allow the company to publish articles directly to the site and provide an online subscription management service to its clients. The objective was to increase subscriptions, reduce distribution costs and improve service.

Enable has delivered on time, on budget and the results can be seen at www.latinnews.co.uk

